10231	Planning Updates/General Information – for information only The clerk reminded those present that they had been delegated by Full Council to formulate a reply to the Inspector for the Core strategy Public examination regarding the affect of the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) on the soundness of the Core Strategy. The committee made the following comments: The NPPF was considered so vague that it would allow most developments to go ahead despite the regulations of both the Core strategy and the National Parks policies. The accepted that the smaller applications such as solar panels &amp; dropped kerb would be allowed under permitted development rules. It appeared to the committee that the District Council were already unable to enforce many applications due to financial constraints.

	The committee commented that the district council was raising revenue by charging for permitted development applications. The committee felt that the whole planning system particularly with the new Planning Policy framework was becoming unmanageable. The latest changes were difficult to keep up with, as soon as one policy document comes out it is superseded by the next one. Further comments were made on the NPPF that it didn't allow planning decisions to be particularly effective. The clerk was asked to draft a reply reflecting these comments with regards to the core strategy soundness.	JO
