WD/2013/1212/F 26 Barons Way, Polegate BN26 5JL

A neighbour had raised objections to the proposals as submitted. A councillor thought it was a clever scheme but entirely in the wrong place. Two other councillors considered that it was very much an overdevelopment and the neighbour had pointed out that the bungalow had already had extensions to the rear which affected sunlight. The raised roofline was considered totally out of place. The chair agreed and further pointed out that the existing roof space was not high enough to meet building regulation requirements for bedrooms.

It was resolved to recommend refusal and submit objections on the grounds listed below. VOTE all in favour of submitting the following objections:

The existing row of semi-detached bungalows have low pitched roofs and raising the roof on no. 26 would upset the balance. The proposed dormer windows are similarly out of place although lay lights would have been acceptable. Rooflights to the rear part of the proposals overlook the neighbouring garden. The property has already been extended and it is considered that these further extensions constitute overdevelopment on a rather small plot area and have an overbearing impact on the adjoining property, no. 25. The Planning committee therefore believe the application contravenes saved policies EN27(1); EN27(2); HG10 of Wealden Local Plan; Paragraphs 17 of the National Planning Policy framework "always seek to secure high quality design and a good standard of amenity for all existing and future occupants of land and buildings"

Paragraph 56 (Design) "The Government attaches great importance to the design of the built environment. Good design is a key aspect of sustainable development, is indivisible from good planning, and should contribute positively to making places better for people"

Chapter 10 of the Wealden Design guide

Daylight and sunlight :

Any proposed extension should be a sufficient distance away from the boundary with the adjoining property to ensure there is no loss of natural daylight.

4 Single-storey extensions

4.1 Single-storey extensions to the side and rear are generally acceptable where they comply with the basic design guidance set

	down in this document and do not have a negative impact on either the privacy or amenity of any neighbouring properties reflect their location in terms of the street scene, maintaining rhythm and spacing 7.5 As many roof conversions seek to incorporate dormer windows, it is necessary to consider the criteria for their use on existing buildings as they are likely to have a significant, and potentially detrimental, visual impact on the existing character of any property. The character and history of the existing property and its setting is of particular relevance in any streetscape where there is little or no previous use of dormers

10682	Planning decisions The chair stated that objections had already been submitted to Wealden for this application and Wealden had also refused the application and now an appeal had been lodged by the applicant. He stated that in the appeal papers it had become apparent that Wealden had agreed that two of the four reasons for refusal had been conceded by Wealden subject to certain conditions. he stated that unless additional material information against the application came forward the inspector already had all of the letters of objection. He advised members of the public to submit anything new to the inspector as per the notification. He stated that new information had come in to the council regarding the waste treatment works at Hailsham and constraints regarding windfall developments, of which this was one. For the benefit of the public present he read out the reasons for refusal and which reasons had been conceded. He also mentioned that there were other areas that had failed appeals where protected species had been found and if as locals they were aware of any they should make them known to the inspector. He allowed the members of the public to speak on the matter. * Standing orders suspended Standing orders reinstated APP/C1435/A/13/2200454 LAND NORTH OF GREENLEAF GARDENS, POLEGATE, BN26 2PF OUTLINE PLANNING APPLICATION FOR RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT OF UP TO 40 DWELLINGS (INCLUDING AFFORDABLE UNITS) AND MEANS OF ACCESS
